ON-SITE ADMISSIONS DECISIONS

Applicants who have successfully submitted their application for admission and supporting documents by September 22, 2017, will receive an admissions decision at the conclusion of the program on Sunday.

Each group coordinator will be issued an envelope with the decisions for the group’s participants, to be issued after returning home and departing the buses. Those not riding buses will be issued their decisions after the buses depart.

There are four outcomes for on-site admissions decisions:

- Offer to first choice: an offer of admission into your first choice major.
- Offer to second choice: an offer of admission into your second choice major.
- Hold: additional or updated information is required before final admission decision can be made. (listed on decision sheet)
- Denial: admission has been denied.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding your admissions decision, you may contact our office.

If you missed the deadline for on-site decisions, don’t worry. All Fall Visitation attendees have until Friday, November 17, 2017, to submit an application and supporting documents to receive an advanced decision. Decisions will be mailed directly to the applicants no later than December 15, 2017.

SULTAN SHARRIEF

Sultan Sharrief’s directorial debut feature Bilal’s Stand “heralds the arrival of its filmmaker as a new voice in American independent cinema.” —Filmmaker Magazine.

After premiering his directorial debut film, Bilal’s Stand, at top film festivals around the country including the Sundance Film Festival, MOMA New Directors, New Films, and the Seattle Film Festival, Sharrief was selected as one of the 2010 Top 25 New Faces in Independent Film. He seeks to develop socially relevant content while empowering youth through the process of filmmaking.

Beginning at the young age of 12, he produced The Spiral Project, a 35mm feature film nominated for a 2006 MTV Movie Award. Sharrief was also the Associate Producer of “Moozlum” in 2011 and Co-Producer of Destined which was shot in fall 2014 in Detroit.

He is a motivational speaker and tours the country with his “Cut the Bank” program which talks about how race, class, and religion play out in the entertainment industry. He is also a visiting instructor at the University of Michigan Screen Arts and Cultures department where he teaches a class on race and social justice in indie filmmaking.

Sharrief is also a mentor with the Sundance Institute’s IGNITE program.

Most recently, Sharrief as accepted as one of only 8 national finalists for 2015 National Black Programming Consortium’s TV producing program and received funding for his youth reality show, “Street Cred” which was shot in Detroit in 2016, and air on PBS in 2017.

ERIC M. LATHAM

Since then, Latham has organized several walks to raise money for good causes.

In 2008, Latham published a second book, “Entitled to a Nation.” His travels took him all around North America, once again speaking with thousands of people to hear their perspectives on social and political issues.

This year, Latham once again took to the road, this time walking across the state of Tennessee. The roughly 500-mile journey brought funds to the St. Jude Children’s Hospital, an institution with which Latham has a personal connection. The walk finished just a few days ago.
